I develop for various platforms, including Palm and PocketPC.
I see Microsoft as the best tech company around, it is in fact so well = positioned that it had already crossed the line of being useful and is = dangerous.

As much as I like and admire their business genius, I believe it wasn't = a settlement that needed to be done, but a split. I even believe that = would have been for their own (in addition to everyone else's) interest = in longer run.

Regards,
